This Agreement is made by and between TISCO Securities Company Limited addressed 4th floor, TISCO Tower, 48/8 North Sathorn Rd., Bangrak, Bangkok 10500 (hereinafter called "the Company") as the one part and

Mr./Mrs./Miss _____ age _____ years, addressed at _____
_____ (hereinafter called "the Client") as the other part.

The Company and the Client hereby agree to enter into this Agreement with the following terms and conditions.

Interpretation

1. In this Agreement, the word of

"Securities" means and includes treasury bills, bonds, bills, shares, debentures, investment units which are instruments or evidence representing the rights to the property of a mutual fund, certificates representing the rights to purchase shares, certificates representing the rights to purchase debentures, certificates representing the rights to purchase investment units, any other instruments as specified by the Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission which includes any other agreement and other instrument including benefits accrue in respect of such Securities.

"Securities Exchange" means and includes Securities Exchange of Thailand, Over-the-Counter Centre and Futures and Options Centre and any other centre for trading of the Securities.

"Advances" means any sum advanced by the Company on behalf of the Client for the payment of the purchased Securities or the subscription of the Securities, and fees or other incidental expenses incurred by the Company as the agent to purchase the Securities on behalf of the Client and any costs incurred by the Company in collecting any debts from the Client.

"The Client" includes any person designated or allowed by the Client to conduct the Securities trading.

"Purchase" includes the subscription for purchase of the Securities.

"Securities Depository Center" means a centre where the services for the deposit and withdrawal of Securities including related services for the purpose of account clearing are provided.

Securities Trading

2. The Client agrees to appoint and authorize the Company to act as its broker and/or agent to purchase and/or sell of Securities both listed and non-listed in the Securities Exchange of Thailand. This Agreement is to be deemed as a power of attorney, and/or the power of attorney dated _____, shall authorize the company to perform any transaction stipulated in this agreement. The Client agrees to pay the company the remuneration at the rate prescribed by the Company in relation to the amount of Securities purchased and/or sold according to the Client's order including taxes, fees and expenses (hereinafter collectively called "Remuneration") to the Company, commencing from the date of execution of this Agreement.

The Authorization in the foregoing paragraph shall include the authorization to the Company to receive dividend, interest or any other benefit related to Securities for the Client and shall include to subscribe or to exercise the right pertaining to Securities by the Company in favour of the Client which the company has considered and deems fit to be done for the benefit of the Client.

3. The Client's order to purchase and/or sell Securities as to its name and price by verbal or in writing or by any mean of communication e.g. telephone, facsimile or any other manner in order to have the Company to perform the aforesaid purpose from time to time shall be subject to the provision of this clause. The order to purchase and/or sell Securities, shall be made in writing in form and substance satisfactory to the Company. For the urgent case, the order of the Client made by verbal or telephone, will be considered as the duly order of the Client in accordance with this agreement when the Company expressly acknowledges such order and the Client agrees to accept the effect following by such order in all respects as if the Client makes such order by itself.

4. The parties agree and accept that the purchase and/or selling of Securities shall be done in accordance with the name, class, kind, amount and price of the Securities which is to be purchased and/or sold without specifying that to whom the Securities is to be sold or from where the Securities is to be purchased or who is holding such purchased or sold Securities or whether or not such Securities have any certain specification and when the Company has to receive or deliver Securities to purchaser, seller or the Client, it can be made with the Securities of the same class, kind and amount instead.

The Client agrees that purchasing or selling of Securities in accordance with the Client's order, the company may purchase from or sell to itself.

The parties agree that the Company has no obligation to comply with a purchase and/or selling order of the Client without notifying any reason. The Company shall have no responsibility to the Client if the Company is unable to purchase or sell Securities in accordance with the Client's order whether in whole or in part.

5. As to the trading of Securities, the Company allows the client to sell and/or purchase the Securities through the Company in accordance with this agreement within the amount not exceeding _____ Baht (_____). The Company has its sole discretion to increase or decrease such trading amount at any time without obtaining prior approval from the Client. The Client agrees to accept such increment or decrement, which the company need not notify the Client in advance.

The Company has a right to refuse the Client's purchase order which exceeds the trading amount permitted to the Client. The Client agrees to accept such refusal of the Company and will not claim for any damages or expenses from the Company.

Order to purchase Securities

6. In case that Client orders the Company to purchase Securities from time to time, the Client agrees and accepts to pay the price of Securities, according to the Client's order, including the remuneration, not later than the third business day next to the purchasing date or any other day on which Securities Exchange or the Company may prescribe. The amount of payment to the Company shall be calculated in accordance with Securities Purchasing Form as prescribed by the Company.

In the event that the Client pays the price of purchased Securities by cheque, it shall be deemed that the price of purchased Securities is paid on the date when the Company receives the money from the Client's cheque.

If the Client defaults in the above-mentioned payment, the Client agrees to pay interest and penalty charge at the rate stipulated in clause 12 from the due date until the payment is actually made to the Company. Additionally, the Client grants the Company to forced-sell the Securities in the possession of the Company, including the right to subscribe Securities (if any) without any notification to the Client regardless that such Securities and/or right of subscription of Securities being sold by forced-sell are Securities and/or right of subscription of Securities which are involving to the default of Securities purchasing payment or are deposited or delivered in possession of the Company for any purpose or are to be forced-sell at what time. The Client agrees to compensate for all damages, interests and expenses incurred from such purchasing, default and forced-sell of Securities fully.

7. Subject to the provision of the second paragraph herebelow, the Company will deliver Securities to the Client within four business day from the purchasing date of Securities or any other day specified by Securities Exchange or by the Company.

In case that the Company transfers Securities via the deposit account at the Securities Depository Center for deposition, withdrawal or transfer of Securities to the Client, or the Company keeps the purchased Securities in the account of the Company, according to the Client's order, it shall be considered that the Company has already delivered such Securities to the Client in accordance with the foregoing paragraph.

The Client hereby agrees and consents to the Company right to utilize the Securities of the Client, which are kept at the Company or deposited into deposit account of the Company, opened with Securities Depository Center, in accordance with the Client's order as specified in the second paragraph, for the purpose of the Company's performance whereby such execution of the Company shall cause no damage or loss to the Client.

Order to sell Securities

8. In case that the Client assigns the Company to sell Securities.

(1) Subject to the provision of the second and the third paragraph herebelow, the Client is responsible to deliver Securities to the Company within 12.00 a.m. of the following business day from the selling date of such Securities or any other day specified by such Securities Exchange or by the Company.

In case that the Client transfers Securities via the deposit account at the Securities Depository Center for deposition, withdrawal or transfer of Securities to the Company, or the Client orders the Company to deliver Securities of the Client which has been kept in the account of the Company, it shall be considered that the Client has already delivered such Securities to the Company in accordance with the content of the foregoing paragraph.

In case that the Client has the Securities kept in the account of the Company (this shall include the Securities of the Client which the Company deposits with Securities Depository Center), the Client grants the Company to bring such kept Securities to be delivered.

If the Client does not deliver Securities which the Client orders to sell, within the time prescribed in the first paragraph, the Company shall have the right to purchase the same kind of such Securities, from any persons or any place and any price in order to deliver it instead immediately or in any other period specified by the Company as it thinks fit and the Client agrees to be responsible in all respect for advances, remuneration and damages incurred by the Company as a result of the Client's failure to deliver its Securities.

(2) The Company shall pay the price of sold securities to the Client on the third business day from the selling date. If the Client sells Securities which has been purchased in the same day, the Company shall pay the selling price of sold Securities to the Client on the fourth business day from the selling date or any other day specified by Securities Exchange or by the Company.

In case that the Client sells the purchased Securities, while the payment of the purchase price has not been made to the Company yet, the Client shall be entitled to receive the sum from selling of such Securities after the Client has paid for the purchase price and remuneration of the purchased Securities. The Company will not set-off the purchase price with the selling price except in case of forced-sell by the Company or for closing of the Client's account.

(3) The Company will pay the selling price of Securities by issuing cross cheque and specifying for account payee only or by transferring the amount of purchase price into the Client's deposit account or by spending such amount in purchasing the promissory notes of the finance company and stipulating the Client's name as a payee or by any other manners designated by Securities Exchange or by the Company.

9. In case that the Client orders the Company to sell Securities, while the payment of the purchased Securities, any advance, remuneration or any other sum due to the Company has not been made yet. The Client shall completely make payment of such amount due to the Company, then the Company will pay the selling price of such sold Securities to the Client, the Company shall have an absolute discretion on this matter.

Effect of contract

10. In case of forced-sell in accordance with Clause 6., the Client agrees to be bound by such forced-sell as it is sold in accordance with the Client's order and grants the Company to take the amount received from such forced-selling, after deduction of remuneration and other expenses, to set-off and/or deduct from all kinds of accounts of the Client which are due to the Company, and to take all by fruit or dividends incurred by the Securities, which the Company receives on behalf of the Client and under the Company's possession, to settle all kinds of indebtedness due to the Company until all these indebtedness have been discharged by the Client, without giving prior notice to the Client.

11. For being the collateral in favour of the Company, the Client agrees to, on the execution date of this Agreement, deliver the promissory notes no. _____ issued by TISCO Finance Public Company Limited. Dated _____ in the amount of _____ (_____) in pledge to the Company as the collateral.

Such pledged promissory notes may be altered or modified whether by the reason of issuing or pledging a new negotiable instrument instead or increasing/decreasing, the amount of money, number of negotiable instruments, whether as a result of the necessity to increase/decrease the amount of Advance in accordance with the term of this Agreement or any other causes, the Client confirms that such alteration or modification to the negotiable instrument shall have no effect to the pledge of negotiable instrument as a security hereof which shall always remain in full force and effect as it deems. The altered or modified negotiable instrument is pledged as long as the Client still has a liability with the Company and in case that the client does not endorse apparently the negotiable instrument to specify a pledge, redemption, or any other matter, the Client agrees that it shall be considered this clause as an authorization to the Company to endorse for pledge, redemption or any other act concerning negotiable instrument of the Client to be a security with the Company which it deems as the Client endorses by himself in all respects.

12. The Client agrees to pay the Company the penalty charge and interest on the outstanding indebtedness due to the Company in accordance with this Agreement at the maximum rate as prescribed in the announcement of the Company (At present, interest rate is at _____ percent per year which may be adjusted from time to time by the announcement of the Company) from the date of the default of payment by the Client until the full payment has been made to Company.

13. In the event that the Client is deceased or becomes incompetent or quasi-incompetent or is sued or in any other cases which the Company thinks it is appropriate to protect the Company's benefit, the Client agrees and grants the Company to sell Securities or property or any other rights of the Client, which is in the possession instead of Securities which the Client has already ordered the Company to sell but does not deliver it to the Company as well and this shall not preclude the Company from its right to terminate the Client's account.

14. The purchasing or selling of any Securities or property or any other rights of the Client by the Company as a result of not complying with any provision of this Agreement, the Company shall have the right to do anything as it may think fit via Securities Exchange of Thailand or make public auction or trade Securities with any person or with the Company itself without prior notification to the Client and it is not necessary to inform or announce in advance or having to perform any other similar acts. The Client hereby grants the Company to bring the sale proceeds of such Securities to pay all kinds of indebtedness and expenses which the Client owes the Company at present and which may arise in the future whether by acceleration or not, and the Company shall have the right to set-off all kinds of the Client's indebtedness as it thinks fit, and the Client accepts to be bound to fully compensate all kinds of indebtedness to the Company.

15. The Client agrees and grants the Company to be a member of Securities Depository Center in accordance with the Securities and Exchange Act or any other law which is promulgated and enforceable and to use services of such Securities Depository Center in relation to the Client's Securities. The Client grants the Company to Comply with all regulations, conditions, procedures and direction of Securities Depository center such as to disclose name, address and other details of the Client to Securities Depository Center, etc.

16. The Client agrees and accepts that he/she/it will not claim, sue or take any other action against the Company, in respect of any damage the Client sustained as a result of performing, or omitting to perform any act or by the fault of the Securities Exchange or any other person which is beyond control of the Company such as damages incurred from delay in receiving of Securities Certificate. For the benefit of this Agreement, it shall be deemed that the Client's Securities deposited in the securities depository account of the Company, which is opened with Securities Depository Center, is held and possessed by the Company itself.

17. This Agreement is an indefinite period contract, the Company is, at any time, entitled to terminate this Agreement immediately without prior notification to the Client. In case that the Client would like to terminate this Agreement, it should deliver the Company by a written notice at least 7 days in advance. This termination shall survive right and responsibility of parties which is existing prior to the effective termination of this Agreement.

18. In case that the Company grants the indulgence to any obligation of the Client in accordance with this Agreement or omits to exercise any right to terminate this Agreement, it shall be considered that such indulgence or omission operates only for such time.

19. The Company has the right, other than any other rights of the Company against the Client in accordance with this Agreement, to claim the Client for all and any damages and expenses the Company sustains in connection with or in relation to this Agreement or related to performance or omission of the Client or the Client's agent; including all damages and expenses the Company sustains as a result of being claimed or sued by other person against the Company to be liable in connection with this Agreement, though it is not incurred by performance or omission or the fault of the Company.

20. All communication letters, demand letters, notices or any other letters sent to the Client’s address given in writing to the company, whether by registered or non-registered mail shall be deemed to be sent regardless whether there is a recipient or not. If they can not be sent because of the change of the Client’s address whereby the Client did not notify the Company in writing or can not be sent because of inability to find such address, it shall be deemed that the Client duly receives and acknowledges such communication letters, demand letters, notices or any other letters of the Company.

21. At any time after signing date, the Client allows the Company and/or its affiliated company to examine, receive and exchange the Client’s information or other relevant information including request for credit information report and any reference documents from Thai Credit Bureau Company Limited and any other juristic person or person that the Company may think fit, including to contact any data centre, use the Client’s information for the purpose of credit checking, marketing, administration and enable to disclose such information to the affiliated company of the Company. The Client undertakes that the Client’s consent shall not be revoked in all respects.

22. If, at any time, any provision of this Agreement is or becomes invalid or unenforceable in any respect, neither the validity nor enforceability of the remaining provision of this Agreement shall in any way be affected or impaired by the above.

23. The Client accepts that it completely understands and acknowledges about law, announcement, regulation or rule of Securities and Exchange Commission, Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Securities Exchange of Thailand, Official authority any authority of and the Company related to securities and Securities Exchange and the Client shall strictly comply including the amendment, modification, or addition to such law, announcement, regulation or rule.

In the case that any law, announcement, regulation or rule mentioned in the foregoing paragraph is amended, modified or added after the date of execution of this Agreement, the parties agree to accept such law, announcement, regulation or rule which is amended, modified or added unless otherwise prescribed by the Company.

However, the Company reserves the right to amend or add any condition of this Agreement as the Company may think fit without obtaining prior consent from the Client but the Company shall notify such amendment to the Client for acknowledgment and the Client agrees to comply strictly with such condition amended by the Company.
